

Contents

Editorial: Consumerism in public services Catherine Needham	79
Debate: Customers versus citizens—does the language matter? Pat Barrett	81
Debate: Reforming the governance of the NAO David Heald	83
Theme: Consumerism in public services
Are all consumers the same? Choice in health, social care and education in England and elsewhere Marianna Fotaki	87
Patient choice in the NHS: what is the effect of choice policies on patients and relationships in health economies? Ian Greener and Russell Mannion	95
Consumerism and control: evidence from Swedish central government agencies Sven Modell and Fredrika Wiesel	101
Are satisfied citizens willing to pay more? Public sector consumerism as equitable social exchange Brian K. Collins and Hyun Joon Kim	109
The consumerism of 'voice' in Norwegian health policy and its dynamics in the transformation of health services Tone Alm Andreassen	117
'Citizen-centred' public services: contestability without consumer-driven competition? Steve Martin and Adrian Webb	123
Non-theme article
The measurement of turnaround management strategies in local authorities Itai Beeri	131

IN THIS ISSUE:

CONSUMERISM IN PUBLIC SERVICES

CHOICE IN HEALTH

WILLINGNESS TO PAY FOR PUBLIC SERVICES

TURNAROUND MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES