

Finance Advisory Network Non-Subscriber Newsletter: October 2022

Advisor Update

Welcome to the October 2022 Newsletter for organisations that do not subscribe to CIPFA's Finance Advisory Network (FAN) and happy Halloween!

Whilst FAN is primarily a membership service for organisations who subscribe, we produce nonsubscriber content such as this newsletter to assist busy practitioners across the sector through highlighting key technical updates, consultations, events and services that we hope are helpful and relevant to making your job less stressful.

One of the main benefits of a subscription is having access to the FAN team to assist with technical accounting queries, so if membership is of interest please do get in touch with one of the team.

The monthly FAN newsletter includes details of our upcoming events and conferences, which we hope will be of interest to practitioners across England and Wales.

That's it for this month. Stay safe and best wishes,

David and Jen. Ien and David

Accounting for Groups and Collaborative Arrangements

Lately, we have been receiving a number of technical queries in relation to group accounts such as how to consolidate assets from subsidiaries that are using a different valuation method; or how do to account for leases where the subsidiary is reporting under IFRS16 and the authority is reporting under IAS 17. We will soon be delivering our 'Introduction to Accounting for Groups and Collaborative Arrangements' which will help practitioners understand and account for these kinds of nuances when accounting for groups and collaborative arrangements.

This workshop is perfect for those practitioners who want to increase their knowledge on group accounts and advance their understanding of the CIPFA/LASAAAC accounting code of practice on how to:

- Determine what types of collaborative arrangements their authorities have entered into
- Prepare group accounts and/or for transactions and balances in their authority's single entity accounts.

This highly practical course will be delivered by our associate Graham Liddell, a well-known thought leader on public sector audit, governance and financial reporting; and will include worked examples, exercises, proformas, hints and tops, and offers a full overview of the process. It will support you in determining your group boundary, consolidating your subsidiaries, applying equity accounting to associates and joint ventures, and recognising transactions and balances for joint operations and other collaborative arrangements into your single entity accounts.

The events will run as two half day sessions on Tuesday 8 November and Wednesday 9 November and is open for bookings now.

Local Authority Accounting Conference Webinar: Latest Developments in Local Authority Financial Reporting and Finance

Thank you to everyone who responded to the 2023/24 Code of Practice consultation. With the consultation now closed, the Autumn Local Authority Accounting Conference will be of great value to those financial professionals working in local authorities and other bodies reporting under the CIPFA/LASAAC Local Authority Accounting Code of Practice. The webinar will give you the opportunity to find out about the very latest development and issues for local government financial reporting both now and in future years.

Bookings are available online now

Code of Practice 2022/23

The 2022/23 Code is now available to purchase as a hard copy or as a digital download which you can access via the website when logged into My CIPFA as part of your publication subscription.

The latest edition of the code introduces a number of important amendments relating both to context and an understanding of requirements. Changes include:

- Clarifying and expanding the applicability of the Code to Welsh authorities and bodies including corporate joint committees.
- Amendments to clarify the treatment of social benefits
- Provisions which allow local authorities to account for leases in accordance with IAS 17, while also offering the option for local authorities to choose to adopt IFRS1 16 on a voluntary basis.

The latest edition of the code can be accessed here.

Audit Committees Practical Guidance for Local Authorities and Police

CIPFA has recently released a new guidance publication for audit committee members and those supporting the committee. It provides detailed guidance to support the 2022 Position Statement that CIPFA published in April with the support of DLUHC and the Home Office. There are separate guides for:

- The audit committee member in a local authority
- The audit committee member in police audit committee
- Those guiding the audit committee (contains additional links to relevant legislation and guidance)
- Appendices covering suggested Terms of Reference, Knowledge and Skills Framework, Problem solving, Self-assessment of good practice (interactive version also provided), and a guide to evaluate impact and effectiveness.

The guidance replaces the 2018 guidance and is a 'zip' of resources, including improvement tools to help assess effectiveness and is available now from the CIFPA website.

CIPFA Bulletin 11: Accounting For Schools Assets - Out Now

The CIPFA Bulletin 11 Accounting for Assets Owned by Religious Bodies and Used by Schools covers the issues to be considered regarding the accounting treatment of assets owned by religious bodies (church/trustees) for schools within the maintained sector.

Note that until full mandatory implementation of IFRS 16 Leases in 2024/25 this bulletin will only apply to local authorities that have voluntarily implemented IFRS 16 either as of 1 April 2022 or 1 April 2023. It also only applies to English and Welsh local authorities.

CIPFA Public Finance Live Cymru (Wales) 2022

The last two years have shown how quickly the public sector can adapt and rise to the challenge of delivering services in a time of unprecedented change. However, recovery from the pandemic, ongoing fiscal constraint and responding to the climate emergency mean that this agility will need to continue in the years ahead. The 2022 conference theme is the 'Future of Public Sector Finance' and explores how finance professionals will be vital to delivering for our citizens, now and in the future.

The programme will have insight and advice from experts across a range of sessions covering sustainability in the public sector, the future of the finance workforce, addressing inequalities and the future of place based cross-sector working in the public sector, among many others.

Speakers include:

- Vaughan Gething, Minister for Economy
- Sophie Howe, Future Generations Commissioner
- Michael Brodie, NHS Business Services Authority Chief Executive
- Andrew Lloyd Williams, Health and Social Services Head of Foundational Economy
