

2015 CIPFA in the Midlands Sixth Form Management Team Games

Are you ready to Volunteer?

"... the feedback and positive comments by the students make it worthwhile, the day is a journey for them and they clearly get something from the day, a sense of achievement, had some fun in doing the tasks and learnt something that may stand them in good stead in the future. ... it is always enjoyable working with other volunteers in the CIPFA family. Volunteering is a chance to give something back and raise the profile of the institute."

Jeff Carruthers CPFA

Reasons to Volunteer...

- Help young people understand the issues facing public sector organisations, particularly those of a financial nature
- Share something of your work and your experiences as a CIPFA member
- Support the young people as they explore and develop team and individual skills, and face the challenges of managing under time pressure
- Network with other CIPFA colleagues
- Contribute to your own learning and Development and earn CPD time

The dates for the 2015 games, which take place from 09:30 – 16:00, are as follows:

• Wednesday 17 June 2015	– De Montfort University, Leicester
• Wednesday 17 June 2015	– Derby Business School, University of Derby
• Wednesday 24 June 2015	– Staffordshire University, Stoke
• Wednesday 24 June 2015	– University of Lincoln
• Wednesday 1 July 2015	– University of Birmingham
• Wednesday 1 July 2015	– University of Worcester
• Wednesday 8 July 2015	– Nottingham Trent University
• Wednesday 8 July 2015	– West Midlands Police Authority, Birmingham

Register your interest now with Chris Gill or Kelly Watson by e-mail: 6thForms@cipfa.org

Celebrating 10 years of the game in its current format

